

Librarians as Publishers and Aggregators: Seizing the eBook Opportunity

Kristin Fontichiaro, University of Michigan

@activelearning - font@umich.edu - presentation slides: <http://bit.ly/kristinf>

Reading

#1 Preview Books on Amazon.com to check levels, interest, voice - <http://amazon.com>

#2 Read Galleys with NetGalley - <http://netgalley.com>

Transferring Web Content To Your Device

#3 Transfer text content from a Web page to your Kindle

<http://klip.me>

<http://www.rekindle.it>

<http://sendtoreader.com>

<http://dotepub.com> (for other devices)

#4 Send RSS Feeds to Your Kindle (or other devices); create your own eBooks

<http://calibre-ebook.com>

Downloading Free Books

#5 - 8 Download books in the public domain

<http://OpenLibrary.org> (also DAISY format for the impaired)

<http://books.google.com>

<http://retroread.com>

<http://m.gutenberg.org>

Creating Books

#9 Turn PowerPoints into PDFs

#10 Be a Publisher - <http://smashwords.com>

Differentiating

#11 Adjusting font size; text-to-speech; transferring audio files

Borrowing Books

#12 Lendle.me

#13 Overdrive

Mechanics of Circulating, Barcoding, etc.

<http://theunquietlibrary.libguides.com/kindles>

<http://theunquietlibrary.libguides.com/nooks>

Great Blogs (Tips to Finding New Tools, Free Books, etc.)

<http://edukindle.com>

<http://kindleworld.blogspot.com>